Long Jetty Officially Open

On Friday 21st June the Port Welshpool Long Jetty was officially opened. A large crowd attended to witness this historic day.

The $11,058,100 project was made possible with contributions of $4,858,100 from the Federal Government, $5,000,000 from the Victorian Government, $1,000,000 from the South Gippsland Shire Council and $200,000 from the Victorian Fishers Authority.

Pictured below, the cutting of the ribbon to officially re-open the Long Jetty was former Gippsland South MLA and Victorian deputy premier Peter Ryan, Gippsland Ports chief executive Chris Waites, former South Gippsland Shire mayor and councillor Jeanette Harding, former councillor Mike Wrigley, the Long Jetty Steering Committee's Paul MacPhail, Kath Hunt, current Gippsland South MLA Danny O'Brien and the Gunaikurnai Land and Waters Aboriginal Corporation's Grattan Mullett.

Since the unofficial opening in December many locals and visitors to the Shire have visited the Long Jetty with over 25,000 people having walked the jetty since February when counters were installed.

This was an exciting day for our local community and the wider South Gippsland Shire and we thank everyone who helped along the way in achieving this wonderful outcome.

Welshpool Golf Club

It appears the local golfing fraternity do not like to play when the weather starts to get a little cooler. The competition numbers have been down and the scores have been very ordinary to say the least.

Those that do turn up thoroughly enjoy their games and camaraderie that goes with it.

A highlight of the month was the fine effort put in by Jen Delaney and Jeanette Swann in winning the local round of the Royal Women's Hospital four ball event and then going on to come runners up at Woorayl to now qualify for the final to be played at Patterson Lakes on 5th October. We wish them all the very best for the day.

Tis sad that we report the passing of long time member Ken Hallett after a bad fall put him in a coma from which he did not recover. Our condolences and thoughts are with family and friends on this sad occasion.

The postponed housewives day ambrose event was conducted on 24th June in cool but excellent conditions for golf. The winners from Wonthaggi club were- G. Prentice/ C. Sartori/ I Ruby with a net score of 62 ½ (14 ½). Runners up was the Welshpool team of R. Brown/ D. Williams/ B. Britton 63 2/3 (8 1/3).

Balls down the line going to- S. Brown/ B. Warren/ D. Christie net 65 1/3 (8 2/3) and M. Eabrey/ T. West/ T. Owen 66 1/3 (7 2/3).

Nearest the pins went to- 3rd T. Owen, 6th D. Christie, 8th T. West and the 15th B. Britton.

"Golf- a game where the ball always lies poorly and players well"

Local results have been-

Wednesdays- P. Barlow, A. Skan, Jen Delaney/ Jeanette Swann (RWH 4 ball) and June Monthly Medal Rachael Brown.

Fridays- P. Delaney, H. Barlow, B. MacPherson, G. Brown

Saturdays- G. Brennan/ G. Wilkinson (American foursomes) P. Delaney, Monthly medal for June G. Brown and the Foursomes Championship to Brian MacPherson and Michael Roberts.

Sundays- P. Delaney R. Barwick, M. Roberts. H. Barlow.

"Golf is the only sport I know of where a player pays for every mistake. A Man can muff a serve in tennis, miss a strike in baseball or muck up a handball in football, and still have another chance to square himself. But in golf, every swing counts against you."

Welshpool CFA

Congratulations to the Welshpool CFA members, past and present, on achieving 75 Year Service recognition. This acknowledgement was made by the Country Fire Authority Victoria at the District 9 Annual Dinner held in Meeniyan on June 29th. Many individuals and brigades were recognised for their ongoing contributions to their communities.

PORT WELSHPOOL & DISTRICT MARITIME MUSEUM

Sharks.....What is nicer than a fresh piece of “flake”? If you’re lucky enough to have had a good day out in Bass Strait, or from your local shop along with some crunchy chips and you can even add some salad. Mouth Watering? Mine is!

When the summer months arrive and the sea becomes so inviting, to cool down and relax, the word shark takes on another meaning. With all the enjoyment of a day spent at the beach we should exercise caution as we inhabit their home.

From the Museums Archives; I recently found this article published in “The Age, Dec 1943”, and read it with great interest; I hope you enjoy it too.

When, fishing for shark was important for other reasons.

The article in part reads....Sharks Help War Effort”.

Vitamin “A” and Cod Liver Oil.

A species of Australian shark which inhabit southern waters has help make a valuable contribution to the Commonwealth’s war effort. It is reflected in the official interest now being displayed in the future of the local shark population in southern waters. It is a story of scientific research and resourceful commercial enterprise as a result of which has come as an oil possessed of vitamin A, vitamin concentrate was undertaken to facilitate the fortification of foodstuffs sent forward to the fighting services.

One authority associated with the commercial side of the industry yesterday expressed the view that suitable boats and adequate supplies of fuel should be released to fishermen, and that expert shark fishermen in the services should be released to return to the industry.

Fixed Price Aspect; another aspect raised yesterday was the question of prices. It was argued that in view of the national value of the shark and the fact that equipment and maintenance on the shark fishing industry were both more costly than in the case of other fishing off the coast, the shark fishermen were entitled to special consideration as an incentive. Consequently, it was stated, dismay had been occasioned among shark catchers by the action of the Prices Commissioner in reducing the retail price of flake as the same level as barracouta. In that the fisherman had the support of the commercial shark oil producers, who also pointed out that the production of oil did not run counter to the use of shark flesh as an edible commodity.

Earlier published in the Argus April 1941. “SHARK SELLS WELL.”

Shark flesh is sold to restaurants and cafes. It pays the fishermen well and in addition, they are getting 8pence and 9 pence per pound for the liver, from which a substitute for cod-liver oil is made. The flesh from one large shark caught at Port Welshpool recently filled five boxes and the liver filled another – paying 2 pound for the liver alone.

And here we are many, many years later enjoying the great taste of fresh flake on our plates and many hideous memories of Cod Liver Oil. I wonder if shark oil had become as popular for all those cures known to mothers, would we have the same memories.

A NIGHT WITH ELVIS

A great night was had with Elvis (Damian Mullin) at the Welshpool Memorial Hall on the 15th June.

The hall with a capacity crowd of around 130 people, rocked and sang the night away with all the favorites Elvis is known for.

The raffle proved a great success with prizes including a trip to see the whales thanks to Wildlife Coast Cruises, and an Elvis tribute quilt which was autographed by Damian. The quilt was made by Joy Kipps with Kerryn Mattingly and then machine finished by Natasha Wakeling. Many thanks ladies for the magnificent work.

Damian proved very popular. His 3 hours of entertainment with songs and jokes (along with the assistance of several locals also got involved), helped make it a very successful night.

With lots of positive feedback on the evening, many patrons requested more fun nights at the hall.

Thank you to all who attended this entertaining night and supported this fundraiser for the Hall.

Special thanks to Joy and Gary Kipps, and Kerryn Mattingly for organizing the event.

Port Welshpool Fishing Club

On Saturday 8th June the Port Welshpool Fishing Club held their annual Presentation Night.

With approximately 60 people attending, everyone was treated to a great night with a three course spit roast dinner with all the trimmings. There were also plenty of raffle prizes on offer and we thank all of our sponsors for their ongoing support during the year.

Those members lucky enough to weigh in their winning catch during the year were rewarded with a trophy for their efforts. It was great to see many juniors weighing in fish this year, we love to see the kids enjoying the outdoors fishing with family and friends.

Our dinners will start up again in November but until then be sure to KEEP ON FISHING!!
