

Welshpool & District Horticultural Society's 60th Autumn Show

The Welshpool & District Horticultural Society's 60th Autumn Show was held on Friday March 5th and Saturday March 6th 2021 at the Welshpool Memorial Hall, South Gippsland Highway Welshpool. It was our Diamond Anniversary 60th year of consecutive Autumn Shows! We are very proud of this significant milestone!! The theme of our Show was "The Magic of Diamonds" featuring the colour Silver.

In addition to our normal comprehensive Show Schedule we were delighted to be hosting "The Rose Society Victorian Autumn Country Rose Championship" which was won by John and Natasha Rowe and also "The Dahlia Society of Victoria Rural Championship" which was won by Ros McPherson.

After the disappointment of our 60th Spring Show in 2020 being cancelled due to COVID-19 we were determined to make our 60th Autumn Show 2021 a success!

Prue Fleming took the role of Acting Show Secretary after illness prevented our inveterate Show Secretary Frances Grylls from taking on this role. The Show was truly magnificent and a feast for the senses with over 650 entries and numbers of visitors and sales from our Club on-site Nursery being a record. Prue and her team did an amazing job.

Arie Boss the Club's longest serving member officially opened the Show and to everyone's surprise and delight welcomed his fellow Club Life Member Fran Grylls who was determined to come to the Show and who commented on the success of the Show and how proud past members would have been of this Show.

Club President Tom Reakes welcomed Don Rickerby President of the Royal Horticultural Society Victoria and Jennifer Rickerby the Secretary of the RHSV to the Show who made presentations of "The John Pascoe Fawcner Gold Medal" for Service to Welshpool Club members Rodney Grylls and Jessica Taylor. Rodney and Jessica were also presented with Life Memberships of the Welshpool & District Horticultural Society! Both Rodney and Jessica were thanked for their enormous contribution and service to the Club over many years. Don declared our Autumn Show the best so far of the Shows he has attended since COVID-19 restrictions have been relaxed. Don said "looking around at all the exhibits we can really tell that a great effort has been made by everyone and we were so pleased to see the kids from Welshpool and District Primary School come through too because they're the future".

Free Training for Community Organisations

South Gippsland Shire Council is encouraging all community members, volunteers and staff from community organisations and groups in South Gippsland to attend one or more of the Adaptable Communities Training workshops. They are designed to help community organisations recover from the challenges of 2020.

A series of four Adaptable Communities workshops will run across 2021 providing organisations with the tools and insights to help them explore what's next in 2021, re-engage with supporters or members, plan projects and source funding needed to make those projects happen.

The topics for these first two workshops are:

- Next Steps – Adapting to New Challenges and Opportunities
- Grant Writing – Are You Grant Ready?

These workshops will be held on April 22 and May 18, 5.30 – 8.30pm respectively.

Volunteer-based community organisations are also invited to contribute their ideas for the next two workshops later in the year by completing the Community Training Survey that can be found here: form.jotform.com/210467015298860

Further information and registration can be found on Council's website:

www.southgippsland.vic.gov.au/effective-communities-training

Quotes attributable to South Gippsland Shire Council's Coordinator Community Strengthening Sophie Dixon:

South Gippsland Shire Council's Coordinator Community Strengthening, Sophie Dixon believes these workshops will help a number of community organisations and groups as they move into 2021.

"The Adaptable Communities Training is a great opportunity for community organisations and groups to reflect on 2020 and set new objectives for 2021. We encourage all of these organisations and groups to have representatives attend these workshops so they can get the maximum benefit."

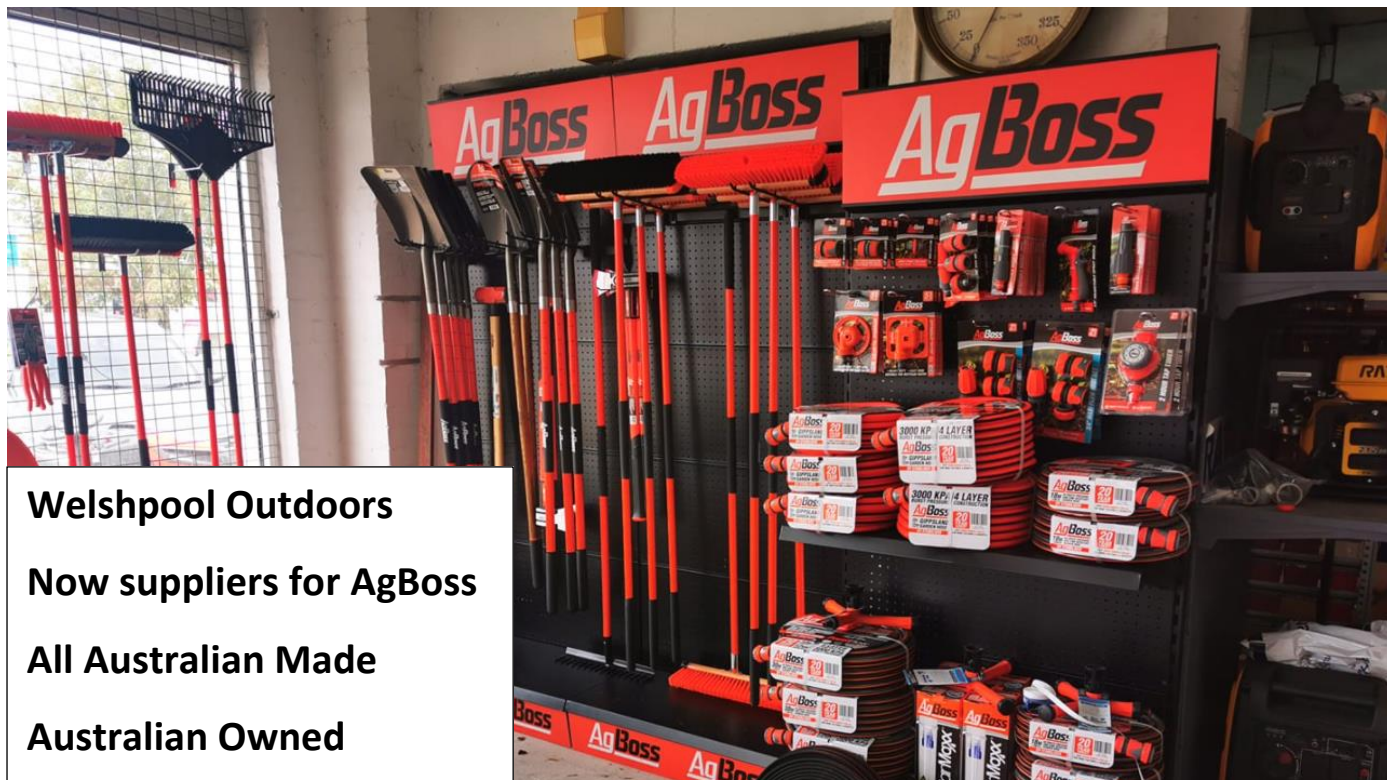

Quotes attributable to South Gippsland Shire Chair Administrator Julie Eisenbise:

South Gippsland Shire Chair Administrator Julie Eisenbise is excited to see how many organisations and groups get involved in the training.

"At Council, it is a pleasure to provide training such as this for our community. It is hoped that this training will help support community groups and organisations in their adaption to a post-COVID environment. It is not easy for many of us to do, but with the right support, we truly believe it can make a difference."

Port Welshpool and District Maritime Museum

Once upon a time, Port Welshpool was a thriving fishing port with a large fleet of boats of all sizes to its credit. There was a school where generations of families proudly learnt their ABC up to Grade 6. Then it was off to Foster High School for further education, the bus that was responsible for getting these students to Foster, started early mornings at the port. With F.H.S out the way or maybe you had reached leaving age, you then went into the next chapter of your life.

The town also had a hall where many an occasion was celebrated. Meetings of all descriptions were held in this hall which was next to where the Tennis Court now stands waiting for some TLC. The Tennis Court once boasted a very strong Tennis Club which competed in the local comps. The hall sadly burnt down and was never rebuilt. There was never a church as such in the town. This meant another use for the hall; clergy men of different denominations held services there.

In Townsend Street there was a house for the Head Master of the School.

In the same street was the house for the Fisheries and Games Inspector.

On the corner of Turnbull and Lewis Streets, a knife factory of world renown clattered away. Many households are still using tools made by Peter Peterson.

In Lewis Street was the Corner Inlet Garage. Also in Lewis Street down towards the Big Pier was the Ports and Harbour Masters House. This very important position made sure all the navigation lights were working, the channel dredged and the slipway safe. Everything had to be shipshape not only for local boats but many others from neighbouring ports who used our slipway or boats needing a safe haven for the night from bad weather or to refuel or get more supplies.

We had the Post Office/Newsagents which also saw to your banking needs. There has never been a mail or paper delivery to your homes but in a port like this, it was not needed as a highlight of the day for most was gathering outside the Post Office and catching up with others to discuss the fishing, weather or the goings on in the town. At the sheds across from the P.O. many a man spent many hours in the sun reading the daily news or just watching the world go by. The General Store next to P.O. was where you could buy most things. No fish and chips. You could open an account, book things up and pay at the end of the month. Bills being paid relied on the catch so this was the way most operated thanks to the proprietor of the G/Store.

The Caravan Park was and is where many a venturer spent many a happy holiday, along with the sand flies. Sand flies or not they returned year after year for the experience of the seaside and all it had to offer. The caravan park also had a kiosk that fronted the beach for an ice cream, hot water for the thermos and many other goodies. The area was very involved in sport, Cricket was played on a pitch in the park and the lawn bowls was happily enjoyed in an area next to the park and still is.

Back in the town in Townsend Street many a holiday was enjoyed at one of the three holiday houses. "The Rest" near the corner of Turnbull Street. The two others were situated across the road behind the now Museum. They went down the hill through to Stewart Street.

At the end of Townsend Street was known as the creek, where many a small boat was moored and thanks to a fisherman in later years improvements were made.

So as we cast the memory back through the ages to what was, we now see the port as a different place. Once a place where generations of family's called home and some still do. While now we watch as a new demographic are building a nest to have a happy retirement.

Local Bendigo Bank branches launch grants program

Our local Toora & Foster branches of the Bendigo Bank will launch their Community Grants Program on Monday 15th March to help improve community outcomes.

Chair of the Toora & Foster branches, Jan Bull said the program will help support local community groups and organisations by making funding available for projects.

"The program helps us to reinvest our Community Bank profits back into the local community," Jan said.

"Projects may be large or small and may also be carried out in collaboration with other groups or organisations at any level."

The program is administered by Community Enterprise Foundation™, the philanthropic arm of Bendigo and Adelaide Bank.

Applications are available online and are open for submission until Wednesday 14th April 2021.

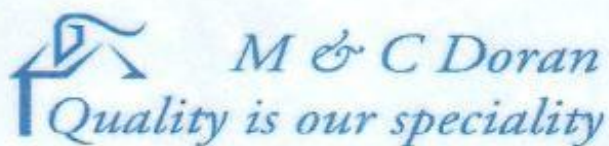

"There are currently over 300 Community Bank branches across Australia that have returned more than $251 million to support local communities," Jan said. "The most exciting thing about our Community Bank branches is the more customers that bank with us, the more money we can use to strengthen the Promontory District, and we encourage everyone to bring their ideas to the table, so we can really find out what our community needs."

To find out more about the 2021 Promontory (Toora & Foster Community Bank Branches) Grants Program please go online <https://cia.communityenterprisefoundation.com.au/Program/Index/1> or call into one of our Branch's; Toora Branch 48 Stanley Street Toora, 5686 2000 or Foster Branch, 68 Main Street Foster, 5682 2287.
